THE WAR

We dedicate this 1964 Echo to you . . .

. . . a memorable date, especially to the French.

. . . for moments of excitement . . .

We studied for you, learned for you, did our best for you because you made your classes sparkle with life; your enthusiasm became ours. As advisor to Honor Board, you backed our decisions, but gave us a standard of fairness and honor to follow.

We know we shall never forget this year; we give you this memory book, hoping that you, too, will remember.

The long hours of work we spent for this book we dedicate to our class and to our school. The moments of excitement, anticipation, and sense of accomplishment we dedicate to you, Miss Margaret Ann Marlow.

"Monster" of Alden House

Good Luck . .

Mrs. Spencer T. Olin and Dr. Wimpress returning from the inauguration service.

May 29, 1964

Dear Dr. Wimpress,

It was the middle of the year when you walked through the doors of Monticello College. Inaugurated on March 18, 1959, you were Monticello's ninth president . . . you were a stranger.

You are no longer that stranger; we have only to look around us each and every day to see where you have been and what you have meant to Monticello.

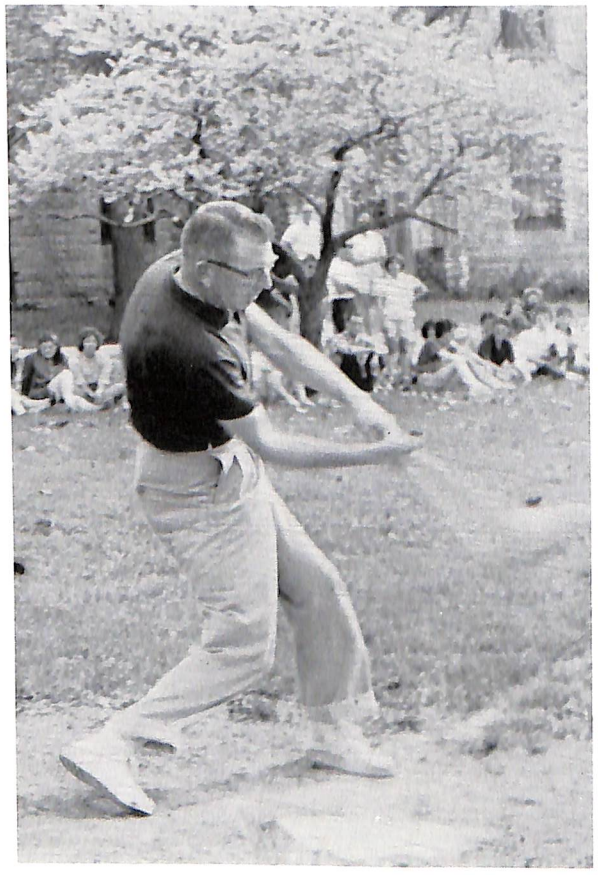
The College has seen many improvements during your tenure: a healthy financial status, a school governed by the students, the dormitory renovations, the realization of a beautiful new theatron—Hatheway Hall—and the plans for a new dormitory.

More than that, you have been a friend from the beginning. Taking an active interest in each student, you joined the fun: faculty waitressing, baseball games, faculty follies, lunch in the dining room, and informal suppers for juniors at the Evergreens.

As you so aptly said to the class of 1959, "we have come to have for you true affection and deep respect. We send our warmest wishes with you and hope that Monticello forever has found a place in your heart."

"Good luck and Godspeed."

The Class of 1964



This is for you, Dr. Myers.

What would you like seconds on?

. . . and Godspeed

Dr. Wimpress presides as chairman of the National Conference on the Private Junior College held January 17 and 18, 1964. Presidents from twenty-four independent and church-related colleges met to compare future plans.

Each year holds more surprises than the last.

Dr. and Mrs. Wimpress join faculty and seniors at an informal dinner at the cabin.

Director of Operational Services

Mr. S. J. Goodman, Director of Operational Services for ten years.

October 28, 1964

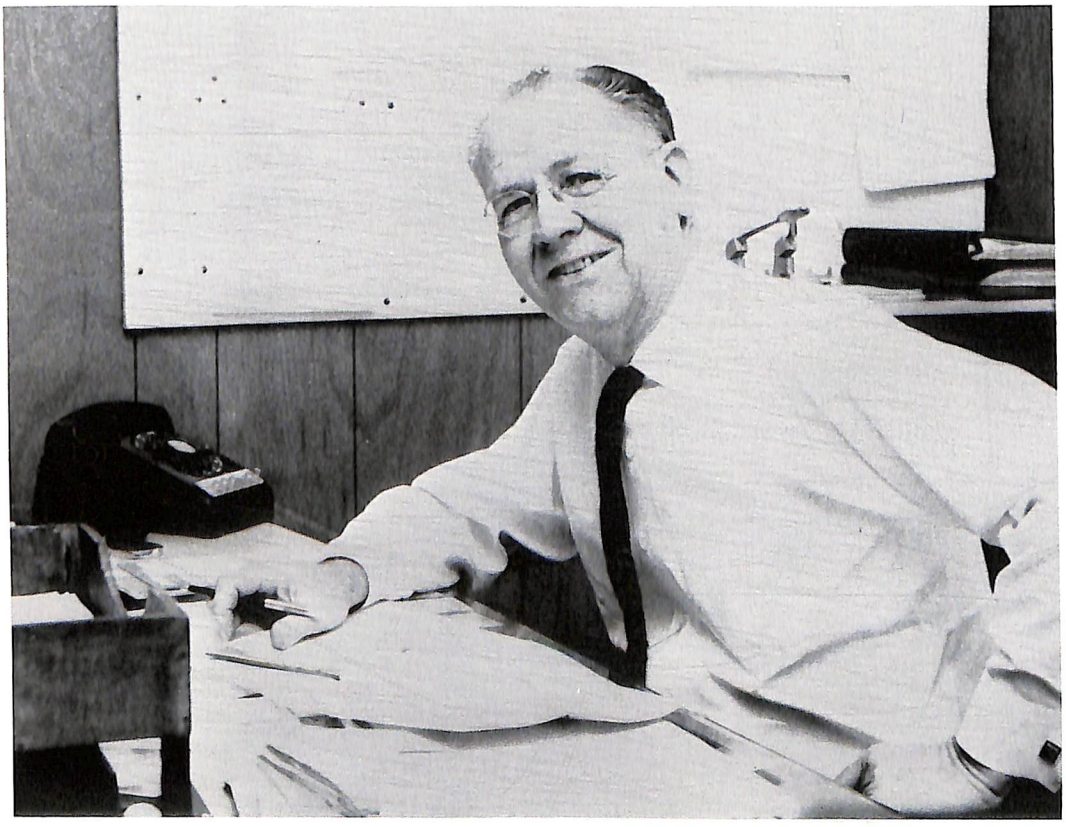
To: 81 "Lil Old Ladies" with complaints
October 26, through Andy Stickel

I want to tell you (if possible) how very wonderful the "sus" of last Friday really was—in spite of the fact I was expecting complaints from lil old ladies.

I shall puff contentedly on those wonderful cigars all the way through the central, southwest, and Pacific coast sections of our great nation; and when anyone is bold enough to ask me why I am "smirking" like the cat that ate the canary, I'll simply tell them—"It is only once in a lifetime that a guy has 81 marvelous girls to remember"—so why shouldn't I smirk.

So it is that time—may I say so long to each and every one of you—having a heart like a cabbage, may I give a leaf to each and every one of you.

Aloha,
Colonel Goodman



Mr. Adair replaced Colonel Goodman as Director of Operational Services following his departure.

Director of Public Information and Publications

Mr. Starkey looks over his own display of photographs.

We know that, although many aspects of your job are fun and exciting, many others are tedious, time-consuming, and nerve-racking. We want to thank you now for your invaluable help in supplying both photographs and information for the Monticello Times and Echo. Your greatest assistance has been the giving of your time and efforts to make this year the best yet.

Honors Program

Dr. Lennon, Director of the Honors Program, explains source material to Ellen and Gayle.

Our Honors Program is one of the most exciting and unusual opportunities offered at Monticello. It is a combination of independent study in a freely chosen field, weekly seminars in the study of contemporary western values, departmental tutoral study, and weekly lectures from members of our faculty and faculty from nearby schools and colleges. The student has a chance to study contemporary western values from the point of view of her chosen field. Gayle Weaver's tutor is Mr. Muir, and Ellen Steininger's tutor for the first semester was Dr. Oldham.

Mr. and Mrs. Spencer T. Olin Lay Cornerstone . . .

Hatheway Hall Cornerstone Laying Ceremony

Reverend Frank B. McDuffee gives the invocation.

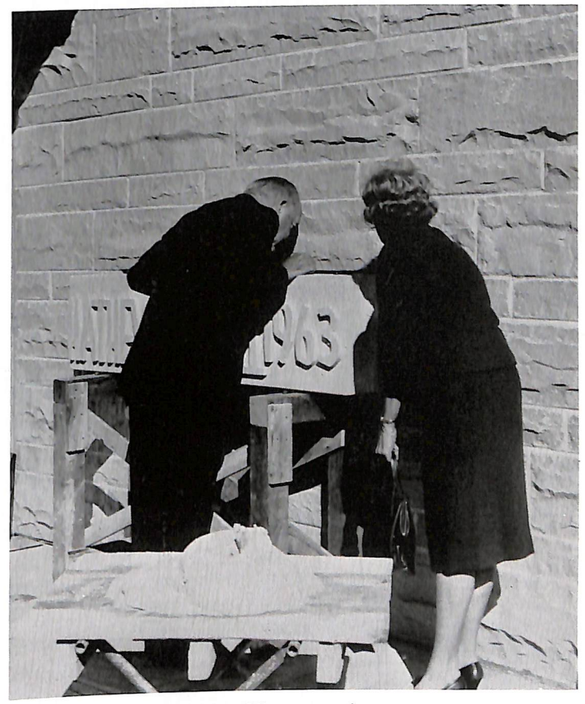
Andie Stickel thanks Mrs. Olin on behalf of the college.

October 1, 1963, is a day which will long be remembered in the annals of Monticello College. It was on this day that history repeated itself when Mr. and Mrs. Spencer T. Olin laid the cornerstone for Hatheway Hall.

In June, 1889, Norah Dell Hatheway, Mrs. Olin's mother, participated in the cornerstone laying for Caldwell Hall. That day was the beginning of a new Monticello.

Now we, too, the class of 1964, witnessed a great moment in the life and growth of a school of which we have become a part and which has become a part of us. We saw with great excitement the awakening of two dreams held for so long by Mrs. Olin: one making Monticello a stronger, ever-growing school; the other creating a living memorial to her mother.

Hatheway Hall is that living memorial. Many months of dreams and anxieties came in fruition as the reality of a nearly finished theatron stood before them . . . as the mortar was applied and the cornerstone slid into place.



Mr. and Mrs. Olin cement the cornerstone.

Formal Dedication of Hatheway Hall Held on October Eighteenth

Mrs. Olin expresses delight in building's completion. From left: Mrs. Olin, Mr. Olin, and Mr. M. Ryrie Milner.

Endlessly long, the time that passed between the cornerstone laying ceremony and the dedication was filled with last minute deadlines and finishing touches. Finally, however, the long awaited moment arrived.

Excited, filled with anticipation, Mr. and Mrs. Spencer T. Olin sat on the stage of Hatheway Hall. It was indeed a beautiful and breath-taking sight—a dream . . . well planned, well worth the wait.

Leah Allen expresses the gratitude of the Preparatory School.

Through many of those seated that night in the audience ran a chill. Caused not much by the newness, the beauty, as by the realization that although this was a gift to the school, it had far more significance.

Hatheway Hall is a gift to each individual student both now and in the future—a challenge to learn in a multitude of ways and to stand out as a better citizen and leader.

Mr. Wharton unveils the portrait of Norah Dell Hatheway.

Jennie Tourel

All too often, singers like Miss Tourel go to a theater, sing, and then make a fast exit out of the nearest door to avoid the autograph collectors.

Such was not the case when on October 14, Miss Jennie Tourel, renowned mezzo-soprano, christened Monticello's cultural affairs program.

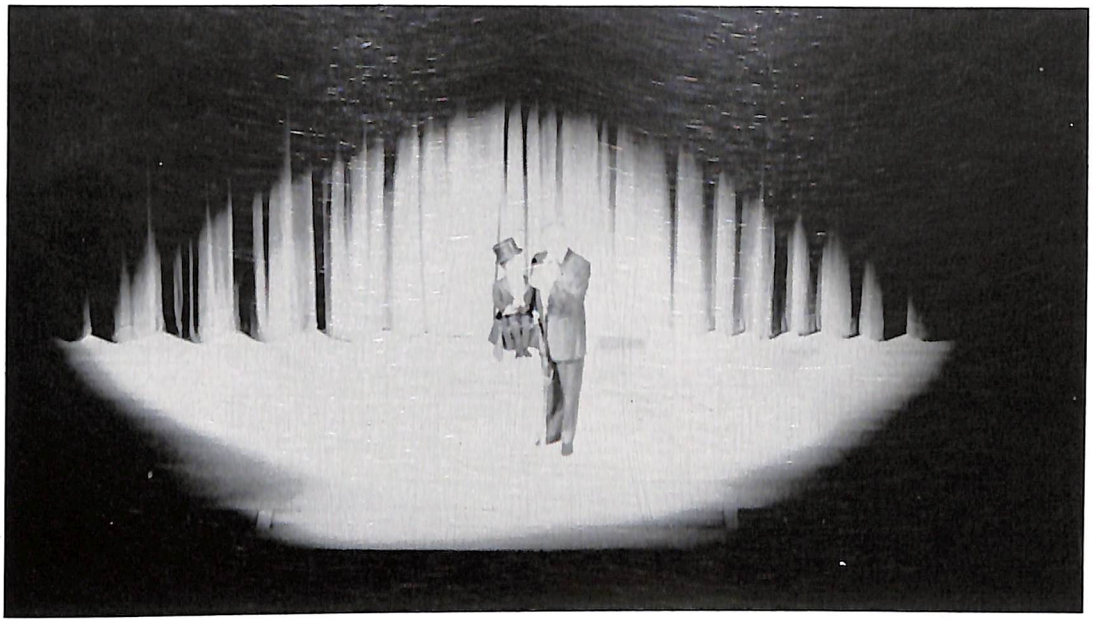
Her reputation had preceded her adding to the excitement of the opening night. Miss Tourel, considered an authority on Slavic love songs, charmed her audience.

Following the performance, an informal reception held in the lobby offered the girls an opportunity to meet and welcome Miss Tourel.

Miss Tourel receives a warm welcome from Monticello students.

Mr. Waters escorts Jennie Tourel from Hatheway Hall.

In and Out of Character



Edgar Bergen with Charlie McCarthy on the stage of Hatheway Hall.

With Edgar Bergen

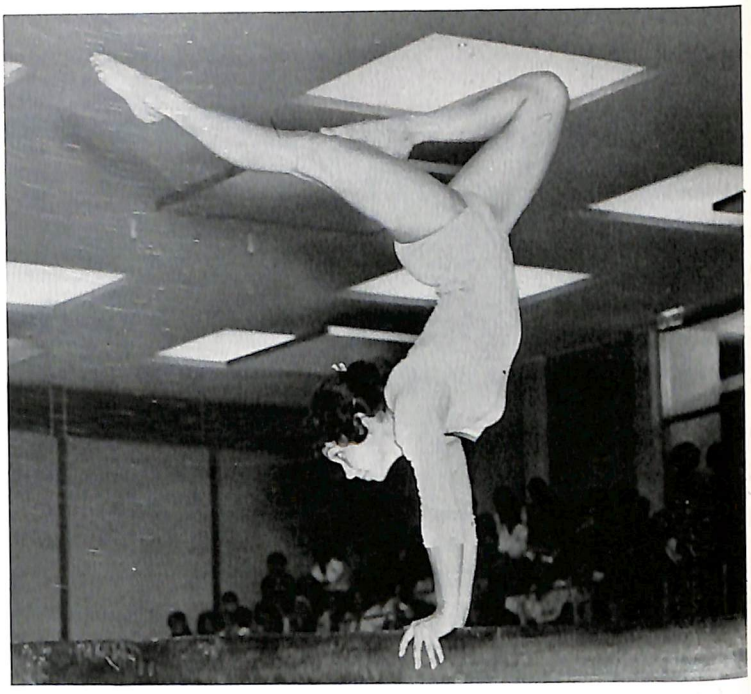
Perhaps the most famous ventriloquist in history, Edgar Bergen made each character take on a unique personality due to his study of character analysis and facial features.

Charlie McCarthy, Mortimer Snerd, and Effie Klinker have charmed audiences around the world and Monticello was no exception when on the night of October 22, the fantastic world of Edgar Bergen was opened to students and townspeople during his appearance on the stage of Hatheway Hall.

Mr. Waters meets Edgar Bergen before the performance.

Left: Mr. Bergen signs autographs while Mr. Waters looks on.

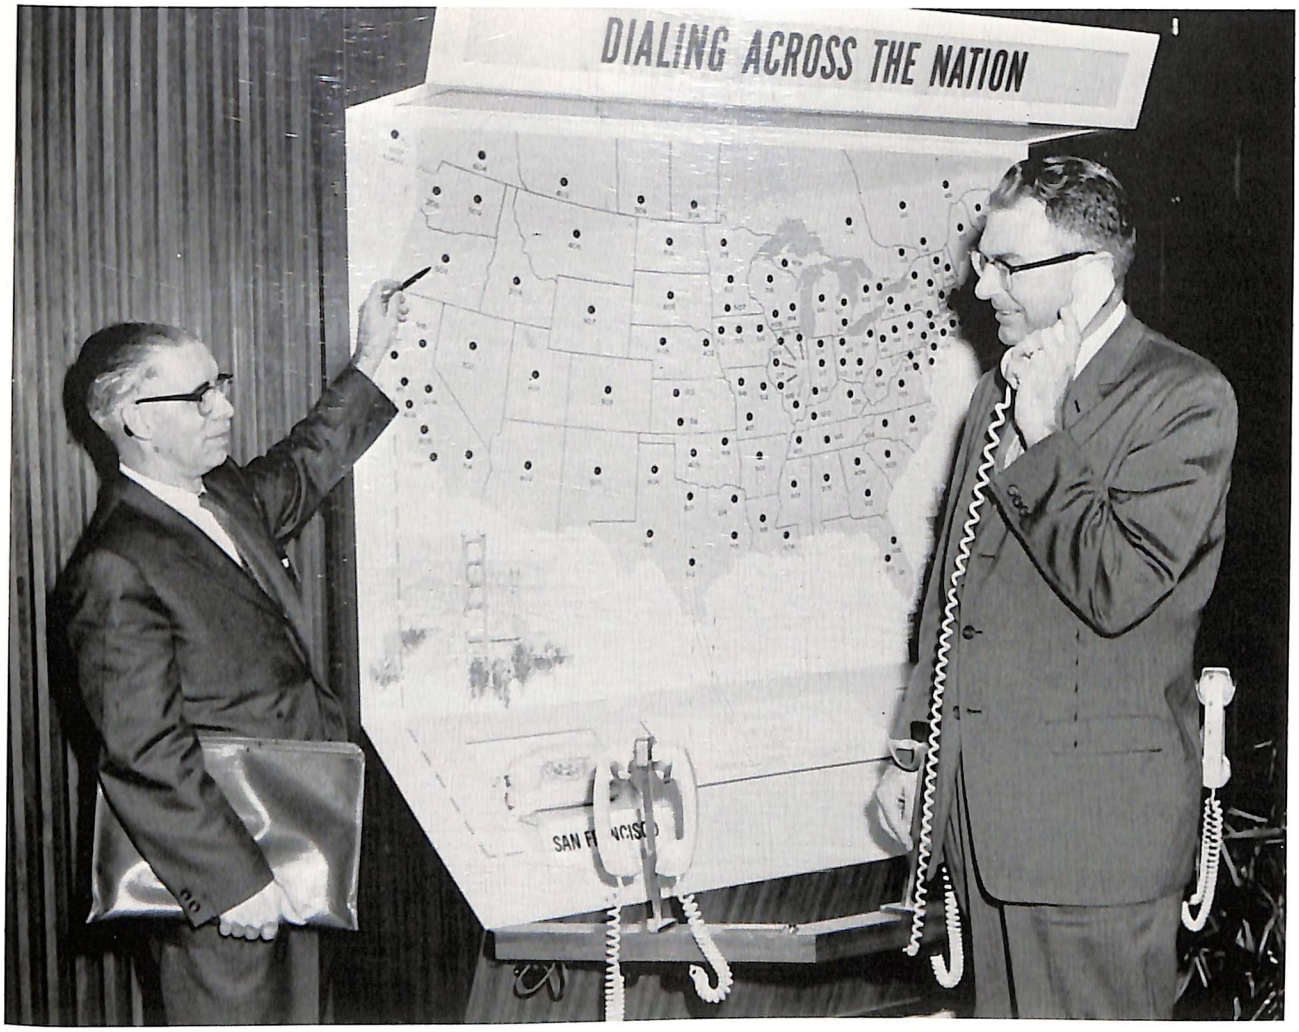
New Gymnasium Opened



The new gym was formally dedicated on October 23, with a gymnastic show.

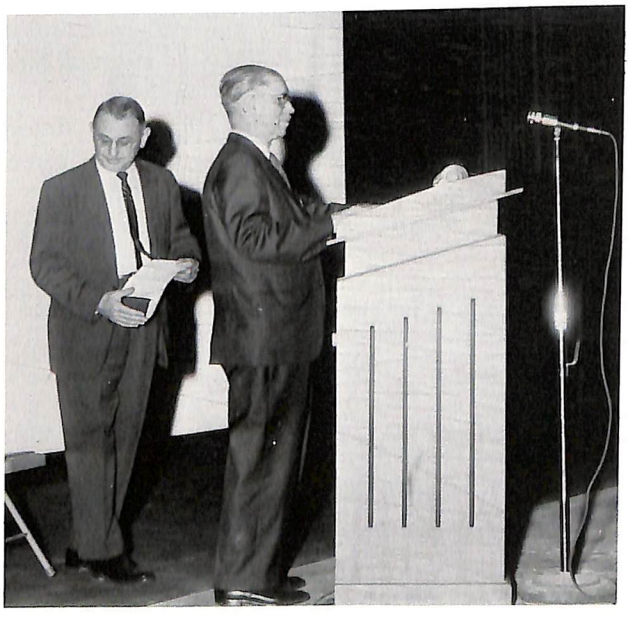
In training for the olympics, the champion apparatus team from Southern Illinois University, Carbondale, Illinois, demonstrated its skills.

After few and brief instructions, preparatory school students displayed their skill in balancing.



Dr. Tebo explains Telstar to Dr. Wimpress and those in the audience.

Bell Telephone and Telstar



Mr. Heider introduces Dr. Tebo.

As the years pass, the earth shrinks smaller and smaller—not in size, but in methods of communication between men. The first step was made by Alexander Graham Bell; many steps later came Telstar.

Dr. Julian D. Tebo, head of the technical stations department at Bell Telephone Laboratories, explained the development of Telstar satellites, when he appeared in Hatheway Hall on October 24, 1963. He told of some of the problems encountered and their solutions.

"That Fabulous Redhead"

Agnes Moorehead graciously takes another bow.

"That Fabulous Redhead," Miss Agnes Moorehead, captivated her audience with charm and wit for one brief hour on Friday evening, October 25, 1963. She was the third performer to appear upon Hatheway Hall's stage.

Miss Moorehead interspersed dramatic readings with anecdotes from her personal life. With only a chair, a table, and a few books as a stage setting, Miss Moorehead switched the mood of her performance from humor to nostalgia and back again.

Miss Moorehead complemented her brilliant red hair by wearing a floor length gown of her favorite color, mauve.

By the end of the evening, her audience was certain that she has also earned the name "fabulous."

Miss Moorehead is greeted by Mr. Kenneth Waters.

Phoenix Art Show

Faculty and students alike enjoyed the paintings in watercolor brought to Hatheway Hall on loan from the permanent collection of the Phoenix Art Museum, Phoenix, Arizona.

From the Phoenix Art Museum came also a very special and generous gift—a collection of contemporary art by artists from around the world. This was an anonymous gift which comes at a time when as F. M. Hinkhouse, Director, Phoenix Art Museum, says "The emphasis on scientific technology threatens to outweigh the academic balance of our educational structure. This indicates, moreover, that Monticello College, as a dynamic center of education in the field of Liberal Arts, is prepared to accept the educational challenge of our times."

Beulah D. Gundling Swims First in Pool

Saturday night, October 26, with standing room only, the students and townspeople crowded into the pool area to watch . . . all eyes fixed on Mrs. Beulah Gundling as she swam to soft, moody music. Grace and beauty alone can describe what the audience saw that night.

After the performance a reception was held for her in the Green Room.

. . . A History

In the preceding pages of this section, we have tried to illustrate the happenings of the first month in the history of Hatheway Hall.

We have brought to you, the reader, what we have seen . . . the cornerstone laying, the dedication ceremony, and the performers who appeared in one capacity or another during the first two weeks following the dedication.

We, as Student Council representatives, wish to increase the students' sense of individual responsibility in upholding standards of academic honor and right living, and to maintain a trustworthy observance of the rules of the College. We give official expression to the opinion of the student body and propose legislation in all matters pertaining to student life which do not fall under the jurisdiction of the faculty and trustees.

Each girl must be willing to support and participate actively in matters concerning student government. She must have full knowledge of the rules and regulations of the College and be willing to observe them and help others to observe them.

CHAIRMAN

Dorothy Alden

The student Academic Honor Board is charged with the responsibility of investigating any alleged violation of academic honor. It's representatives are specifically chosen because they are leaders of their respective classes. Two seniors and two juniors are represented, with the Vice-President of Stuco as Chairman. Although it is only a recommending body, which must submit its final recommendations to the administration for approval, it is a strictly student board.

The girls get a chance to meet the group after the performance.

The Four Freshmen warm up their smiles as well as their instruments.

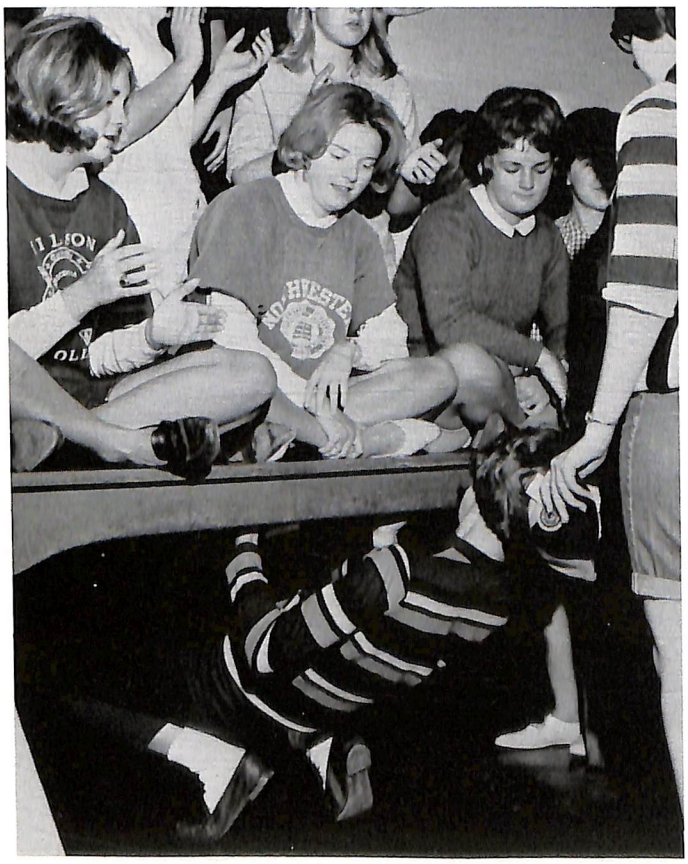
"Hell Week"

The Beginning and the End

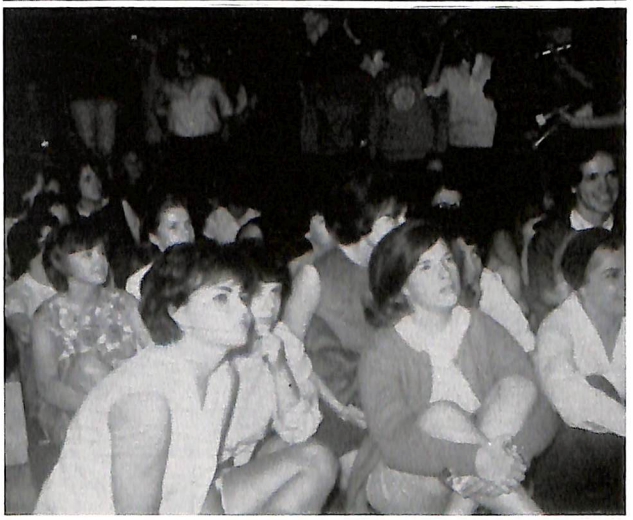
"Wipe that smile off your face, junior!"

Fun for All!!

"Limbo, limbo, limbo like me . . ."



"HOW do you address me??"



"Hmm. Did I ever look that silly?"

"Who's afraid of 'big bad seniors' . . . besides us??"

"Smile! This can't last forever . . . can it?"

We're having a ball!

"Watch it, senior, if you want to stay dry!!"

Heavenly Eleven . . . Plus One

"If you only knew who planned all this . . ."

Best Loved of Traditions

Annual Doll Dinner

Santa distributes candy at the Christmas play.

On December 17, 1963, the students and faculty of Monticello attended the annual Doll Dinner, traditionally held each year near Christmas. This year's theme, "Babes in Toyland," came to life in the eyes of many young children, who received the dolls and stuffed animals donated by the students, faculty, and alumnae in a spirit of giving.

"No, it doesn't have a 'Tonette'."

"You know, I hate to give mine up."

Dolls, Dolls, Dolls

The Doll Dinner was sponsored by the Monticello Christian Association with Cathy Jung (Vice-President) as chairman. Following the dinner there was a reception in Hatheway Hall where the students and faculty were able to see the dolls and stuffed animals on display.

The prize-winning dolls were announced at this time as follows: most original doll, Carroll Eichmann; prettiest doll, Paula Berg; and the faculty doll, Miss Bergmann.

"Look! It feels just like a real baby!"

Academy Awards Night

Girls meet their guests along Caldwell Hall.

"But she can't wear shoes and still keep her balance."

"A little to the left."

As the Evening Draws Near

"The oasis looks great, but when am I going to have time to set my hair?"

Jack Engler's band plays for the G. W. Ball.

We Worked Together

"You'd never know I only got three hours of sleep last night!"

"Gravel doesn't taste very good, does it, Marcia!"

"We've tried our best to make G.W.B. a success."

"What do you mean, 'there's no more masking tape'?"

The Five Ideals

Beauty . . .

"The best part of beauty is that which no picture can express."

—Bacon

Knowledge . . .

"Real knowledge is not to be obtained easily. It must be worked for, thought, and more than all, prayed for."

—T. Arnold

Personality . . .

"Nothing endures but personal qualities."

—Whitman

Service . . .

"Serve and thou shalt be served . . . If you love men, you cannot by any hiding or strategem, escape the remuneration."

—Emerson

Versatility . . .

"Men who undertake considerable things, even in a regular way ought to give us ground to prove ability."

—Burke

These girls were selected by the senior class and each girl represents an ideal as her most outstanding quality.

Student Council

The main form of student government at Monticello is the Student Council. With the advice of Mrs. Robert F. Shewman, the Council handles any cases where there has been a violation of the school rules or the Honor System. These girls try to promote a positive attitude on the part of the students toward the regulations and purpose of Monticello, as well as plan student activities such as cookouts and a variety show.

Booster Club

The Booster Club, a group of girls chosen by the returning members and the club advisor, Mr. Robert Martin, works closely with the admissions office in showing prospective students around the campus. In the Spring, the group sponsors pre-Monti Weekend which gives a possible applicant an inside view of Prep school life.

Young Democrats Club

This year, those girls interested in politics and the platform of the Democratic party organized a chapter of the Young Democrats Club. With the aid of Mr. John Macdonald, the sponsor, a special committee drew up the Constitution and the by-laws and organizes the group. Special guest speakers addressed the group on civil rights, foreign affairs and party differences.

Officers: Diana Berry, Secretary; Jean Williams, President; Mary Jackson, Vice-President.

Thespians

Thespians is an honorary drama club made up of girls who earned ten or more Thespian points by having a part in a play or by doing stage crew work.

Drama Club

Drama Club was organized to help interested students develop a better understanding of theater production. During the year the club sponsored guest speakers that talked of different phases of the theater.

Glee Club

Glee Club Officers: Left to Right: Secretary—Mary McReynolds, President—Jane Wettaw, Librarian—Pris McKeon.

The Glee Club is open to any Prep who is interested in singing and having fun. This year the Glee Club participated in the Christmas Candlelight Service, the Palm Sunday Service, and in the Spring Concert with the Choir. The combined Western Military Academy Choir and the Glee Club sang in early March.

Monticello Christian Association

Monticello Christian Association, one of the few organizations any Monticello girl can join, has been known for many years as a service organization. During the Christmas season M.C.A. sponsors the annual Christmas Play that is given to the children in this vicinity. The preps also worked diligently on Doll Dinner to make the entry to the dining room a true "Toyland."

Through M.C.A. the girls had the opportunity to give their services at various hospitals throughout the Alton area. Hours were spent in beneficial lectures and at picnics. This year M.C.A. has been an organization each girl can be proud of.

Marlin Club

At the dedication of the Hatheway Hall swimming pool and during the month of April, the aquatic arts clubs of Monticello presented water shows with both professional and student performers. The more advanced of the two groups, Marlin Club, requires a skill test for membership. The Dolphin Club is open to all girls interested in learning synchronized swimming and aquatic arts. Both of the clubs are sponsored by Mrs. Beth Hunter.

WE'RE GOING WITH YOU

Whether you knew it or not, almost every day of your school year you've used a product made by Olin Mathieson.

When Olin Industries, Inc., merged with the Mathieson Chemical Corporation in August, 1954, they brought together the skills, facilities and resources of two of the country's most rapidly expanding industrial organizations.

We extend our best wishes to you. May the future bring you all you've hoped for and everything for which you have worked.
